

Issues of contemporary economy B I

Syllabus Number

ECP-305

Elective

2 credit

NAKAGAKI, Keiichi

1. Course Description

Global demand for infrastructure is enormous with rapid urbanization and economic growth of emerging countries. Japanese companies are capitalizing these opportunities and Japanese Government's policy is to provide support as important growth strategy.

Through the course, concrete analysis on overseas development of infrastructure system is made based on my business work experience.

The course is designed to assist students to understand important business fields / strength and challenge of Japanese companies in these fields and to make use of knowledge for their future career formation.