

Choice of Career Fields 2

Syllabus Number

CAE-210

Elective

2 credit

ISHIGE, Hiroshi

1. Course Description

In this course, students learn Japanese industry from the perspective of occupation or job. You will learn business and profession as (1) a workplace, such as duty, treatment, employment form etc., (2) industry such as agriculture, manufacturing, distribution, service industry, (3) duties such as sales, planning, general affairs, accounting and finance etc.

In the fall semester, you will learn about the work of the industry belonging to the service field and the nonprofit workplace, based on an understanding of differences in industrial society and work by occupation.