

Reading in English I

Syllabus Number

PSY-203

Elective

2 credit

SHINTANI, Kazuyo

1. Course Description

In this class several reference books are prepared to advance students' general English reading skills. Throughout these materials they are encourage their development of English grammar and reading skills. And students are also expected to be interested in learning developmental psychology by reading beginner's textbook about life-span developmental psychology.