Data Processing I (Applied Spreadsheet Calculation)

1. Course Description

The main goal of this course is to learn the elementary methods for collecting, organizing, processing and analyzing social or economic data. In the course, we exercise basic techniques for effective use of data through using Microsoft Excel.