

Information Processing II

Syllabus Number

THI-202

Elective

2 credit

IN, Yoho

1. Course Description

In this course, will be to study the components of computer and information system , information representation method, information system technological elements, Internet, system development technology, etc. in units of units.