

Teaching Methods of Moral Education

Syllabus Number

ESS-301

Elective

2 credit

AKABORI, Hiroyuki

1. Course Description

A student spreads knowledge about the moral education and develops the leadership that can perform moral education as a teacher concretely.

I understand a characteristic of the moral education to perform in the whole instructional activity of the school and significance or the making method of the master plan.

In addition, I spread knowledge about a characteristic of the morality department, contents, an instruction method and develop the leadership that can perform a class through practice.

I make use of a characteristic to learn by collaboration, and the lecture introduces interactive learning in deference to personal consideration.