HAMADA, Yo

Elective 2 credit

1. Course Description

Provide opportunities for presentations, discussions, and dissertation reviews to improve the composition and discourse of master's thesis writing. The fall semester is positioned as an important time to deepen the research theme by examining the logic, academic terms, and literature lists developed in the paper. Humanities require the conceptualization and descriptive skills to turn ideas into sentences. Guidance will be given to the revision work of research resumes to improve them.
