

Seminar : Sociology I

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

LEE, Youngsook

1. Course Description

The aim of this seminar is to understand the correlation between the studies and activities of volunteers. This seminar also addresses the theme “How can we overcome boundaries set by others and resolve our own private issues?” This course expects students to acquire the ability to create individual explanations for these phenomena in response to course readings and class discussions.