Seminar in Educational Survey I

Syllabus Number SOE-203
Elective 2 credit
TANIMURA, Hidehiro

1. Course Description

Through this course you will experience and learn the whole process of quantitative social research: reviewing previous research, making a hypothesis, making a questionaire, collecting data, editing and inputting data, analyzing them with a computer, and reporting the results. You will experince group work many times in this course, so your active participation and cooperative attitudes are expected.
The language used in classes will be Japanese.