

心理学総合演習 II

Elective 2 credit

ISHIDA, Wataru

1. Course Description

It is necessary for graduate students who want to to a clinical psychologist and the licensed psychologist to learn an idea and technique of clinical psychology through an on-the-job training . However, I cannot repeat it even if I merely experience it. Knowledge and a theory summarizing an experience in are necessary to repeat an experience. Therefore, it does not lead to supporting it if there are not a theory and knowledge of the clinical psychology.

Therefore, the aim of this seminar is that the graduate students learn the history and a theory of the clinical psychology, psychology assessment and psychotherapy. In addition, an example article to join a theory and practice together as the teaching materials is used.