

Corporate Accounting Law II

Syllabus Number NFL-306
Elective 2 credit
YOSHIDA, Takaaki

1. Course Description

The existence of companies is indispensable in modern era where capitalistic economy has developed. Corporate Accounting is a method for recording and communicating the activities of these companies.

In this course, we will study Financial Accounting, one of Corporate Accounting, whose purpose is reporting conditions and results of companies to their stakeholders. This course will help you to acquire abilities to evaluate a fiscal position and a result of operation of companies, with examining their financial statements.