

保健体育科教育法 III

Syllabus Number ESS-309

Teachers' License
Program Elective
2 credit

TAKADA, Akishige

1. Course Description

Students will learn about the practical skills necessary for health and physical education teachers in senior high school and the role of teachers. In particular, students aim to understand the basic theory of teaching plans in high school health and physical education. Students will also learn how to teach each area and how to devise unit plans. Furthermore, students will learn about the role of health and physical education as a subject and the way of health and physical education teachers.