

Urban Economics I

Syllabus Number

ECP-311

Elective

2 credit

CHINO, Eiichi

1. Course Description

The charm of urban is the height of convenience, the center of culture, the diversity of urban residents. However, the back side, there are various problems to be faced by the city. In particular in Japan, is the height of the crime rate and the environmental issues high land prices, a narrow housing, traffic congestion, long commutes and air pollution.

In this lecture, in the basic case of the reality of the urban economics, let's consider the urban economics in modern.