

発達障害等の理解と指導・支援

Elective 2 credit
FUJII, Yasushi・KAMACHI, Keiko

1. Course Description

This class is taught in team of two teachers. One is a medical doctor and the other is an expert for special education. In this class, students will study mainly exercise physiology and pathology to understand developmental disorders such as Autism Spectrum Disorder, Attention Deficit / Hyperactivity Disease and Learning Disabilities. And also students will be expected to require the method and knowledge about the educational support for the children with developmental disorders.