Elective 2 credit
KAMACHI, Keiko・TAMEKAWA, Yuji

1. Course Description

According to legal position, we will learn the history and key points of special needs education by distinguishing it from disability education, and organize the assignment for special needs education. In this assignment, we will study today's challenges of special needs education and investigate specific methods for preferable supports through group work and discussion. Especially, students "kind of B" are required to get the ability of giving advice to less experienced teachers.
