

臨床心理実習 II

Compulsory 1 credit

OKAMOTO,
TAKANASHI, Rieko

Junko・

1. Course Description

This class would be the final opportunity to wrap up the learning and experiences during the master's course. Students are expected to generalize various ideas such as relationship with clients, standpoints of therapists, safety and risk of self-disclosure, skills of self-awareness, the suitable attitude of supervisee, collaboration within/between specialists, the standards as a member of society, and so on. It also offers the career guidance and helps students to bring the portfolio of their study to completion.