

Constitution : Special Topics II

Syllabus Number

PUL-202

Elective

2 credit

KANAZAWA, Makoto

1. Course Description

This course considers structural limitations on government: the separation of powers among the three branches (legislative, executive, and judicial) of the national government. A major focus throughout is the proper role of the judiciary in limiting the action of other branches of government.