1. Course Description

After the completion of Education I, we continue our group research, mainly focusing on the current themes of child development and education/childcare. In Education II, particular emphasis is placed on fieldwork such as study visits, interviews and surveys by questionnaires. Based on the results of the research, each student is expected to create a lecture. The lecture should not be mere one-way traffic type knowledge teaching, but many ideas and devices to raise issues properly, show clear-cut data, and to listen to one another's opinions to think more deeply about the theme in question is expected.
