

Labor Related Laws and Regulations II

Syllabus Number

SOL-302

Elective

2 credit

TSUKAGOSHI, Kenichiro

1. Course Description

When a worker suffers injury or disease resulting from employment-related cause, it is called an industrial accident. An industrial accident may cause serious damage to the worker and the employer. It is necessary to save the safe and healthy work environment.

This course deals with the system to realize the safe and healthy work environment. The aim of this course is to let students know Industrial Safety and Health Law is familiar.