

Physiology I

Syllabus Number

GPH-201

Elective

2 credit

KAWADA, Shigeo

1. Course Description

The course provides an overview of basic human physiology. Specifically, in this course, we will learn about the structure and function of the skeletal muscle, nerve, brain, heart, vessels, and lungs. Upon completion, you should be able to scientifically understand the human body.