

Seminar I

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

KONNO, Hisako

1. Course Description

In this seminar, we learn about the regional management, and about how we can contribute to the neighbouring region which is familiar to ourselves, the university students. For this purpose, we search for the regional characteristics, and try to make the relationship with the neighbouring community, so that we can recognize the needs of them. We try to study and act by the small teams through the group discussions.