

Finance I

Syllabus Number

MOF-201

Elective 2 credit

1. Course Description

This course plans to learn the basic theory of personal finance. We will check the balance sheet of household sector and find ways to improve it. Especially, it is very important, in this context, to have deep understanding for life-planning because our life is becoming longer.

Final destination is to improve your financial capability. In spring semester, we will learn how to become wise consumers and in autumn semester we will proceed to learn how to become smart investors.