MOF-201 Finance I Syllabus Number Elective 2 credit

1. Course Description

This course plans to learn the basic theory of personal finance. We will check the balance sheet of ousehold sector and find ways to improve it. Especially, it is very important, in this context, to have deep understanding for life-planning because our life is becoming longer.
Final destination is to improve your financial capability. In sring semester, we will learn how to become wise consumers and in autum semester we will proceed to learn how to become smart investors.