

International Economics	(Teacher	Syllabus Number	ESS-209
Training Course)		Elective	2 credit
		SUGIURA, Fumikazu

1. Course Description

This course aims at a basic understanding of International Economics. In the first half, we concentrate common issues of international economy, such as international trade system, environmental protection issues, poverty reduction issues and the like. The latter half focuses development problem of important countries and regions, such as the USA, EU, and China. This course should serve as an introductory course for those who try to study international economics seriously.