Seminar I

Syllabus Number SEM-301

Compulsory 2 credit

MIWA, Hiroki

1. Course Description

In this seminar, we study political science, politics of India and other South Asian countries, and international relations in South Asia. In the spring semester, we do book reviewing as an exercise. We select some academic books on political science, Indian politics, international relations in South Asia, and so on. Each participant makes a presentation about the contents of the books, and we discuss those contents based on the participant's presentation.