

Development
IV (Development Economics IV)

Economics

Syllabus Number

ECP-322

Elective

2 credit

KARIKOMI, Syunji

1. Course Description

This course will be an introductory class on Development Economics and the Asian economy. In Development Economics IV, we will study Asian economic development, which has been characterized by its dynamic growth, diversity in growth performance, and deepening economic integration. We will develop an understanding of the structure and dynamics of the Asian economy. We will determine some details of the course after the first meeting. This course will be held in English.