

創意ある教育課程の作成と評価

Compulsory 2
credit

SHIMIZU,
AKABORI, Hiroyuki

Shizumi・

1. Course Description

I aim at feeding the ability that making carries out the curriculum in the school, the curriculum that I learn the theory about making, enforcement, the evaluation of the curriculum in each subject with the practice at training school and the belonging school in mind, and there is originality and can evaluate. In addition, subject crossing understands a course of study systematically and overlooks the education contents of a subject, the domain in the whole school education and aims at the underlying understanding to organize a curriculum in line with an area, a school, a child student. It is a class subject about "understanding of the course of study" and "formation of the curriculum" and evaluation mainly.

Furthermore, about the curricula such as the curriculum in the school or each subject, I examine a condition and the element which are necessary for curriculum formation while a domestic characteristic collecting the examples that there is mainly, and discussing the current situation and problem each other and allow you to understand it while tying it with the basics of significance, education theory of the teaching profession. In addition, through the analyses such as the examples at the training school, I aim at the acquisition of the necessary knowledge and skill as a member of the curriculum coordinator through examination by the group work.