

中国の社会と文化 I

Syllabus Number

ASI-202

Elective

2 credit

KENJU, Yoriko

1. Course Description

By learning the outline of Chinese ancient society and the process of formation of traditional culture, we aim to understand modern Chinese society and the basis of cultural formation. While examining the history of the process of formation of society and culture in China, we will examine various factors that are deeply affecting the society and people's behavior in modern China. And by analyzing the historical transition process of Chinese society and culture, we will deepen our understanding of the conflict and fusion between Chinese traditional culture and modern culture.