

Topics in Japanese History 3C- I

Syllabus Number

JPH-205

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

FUKAYA, Koji

1. Course Description

This class is, as that name, the lectures of the topics in Japanese history mainly about its medieval and early modern times, especially in its latter half. But the students specialized in this class has many kinds of their interests, so the contents of its lectures will have many themes like the incidents, things and people in that time. Otherwise, in this lectures, the neighbor studies of the historical, as the geographical, folklore, religion, literature or artifical theme in medieval and early modern will be taken.