

世界の情勢(アメリカ)Ⅰ

Syllabus Number

ARS-107

[IV]

Elective

2

credit

KARUBE, Kensuke

1. Course Description

“United State of America is the strongest country in today’s world” is general conception, not only in US but also in other countries. If that’s correct, we should understand the detail of the system of national governance of the United States which is managing the largest country in the world in the area of military and economy. Is the President strong? How is US political system working? What is the relationship between the White House and Congress? This class will observe these kinds of aspects of US political system.