

Seminar : Sociology I

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

KINOSHITA, Koichi

1. Course Description

Sociology includes a very wide range of research subjects and methods. In this seminar, we will discuss society from a media perspective. Specifically, participants are expected to give presentations about research papers on media topics. The presenters will discuss their topics with everyone and share their knowledge. Depending on their own interests, participants should consider as many types of media as possible, including newspapers, movies, television, radio, magazines, and SNS.