

Introduction to Science Education

Syllabus Number

ESS-206

Elective

2 credit

AKAISHI, Tamotsu

1. Course Description

In this lesson, your goal is to deepen the basic concepts and theories about such as "energy", "particle", "Life", "Earth", and so help to science teaching. In the "energy", view of energy, conversion and storage, the effectiveness of the resources, in the "particles", the presence of the particles, the binding, storage stability, in the "life", the structure of the biological and functional, diversity and commonality, environment involvement, in "Global", Earth's interior, surface, around the point of view, give a lecture contents such that it can capture the natural phenomena.