

中国語表現Ⅰ

Syllabus Number

CHI-303

Compulsory 1 credit

雷 叢晶

1. Course Description

This course is designed for junior (third-year students) major in Chinese and aims to improve the conversation skills. In this course, the knowledge of spoken Chinese will be taught and the training of speaking skills will be conducted based on the topics of global issues and cross-cultural problems from the view of China. Students will have to memorize phrases used in specific scenes such as school, workplace, daily life and social topics. Personal presentation and group discussion will be conducted in the course to ensure the practicability of the course.