

Anthropology 1

Syllabus Number

ANT-101

[VII]

Elective

2

credit

SUZUKI, Toshihiro

1. Course Description

Anthropology is study to study the Homo sapiens as the creature generally. I understand something with the Homo sapiens scientifically. And it is substantial and aims for establishing outlook on human being with the validity.

For a method of the approach the physical anthropology for physical forms and essence of the human. It is classified roughly in culture of the human and cultural anthropology for the society. By this lecture, I want to think about evolution of the human comprehensively.