

Practical on Statistics and Survey Data Processing I

Syllabus Number

STS-203

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

WATANABE, Kohei

1. Course Description

The aim of this practical is to acquire IT skills that is essential in pursuing social science. Not only items related to statistical data, but also topics on text editing, computer maintenance, and use of network will be covered.

The following statistical topics will be included; simple- and cross- tabulation, frequency distribution, descriptive statistics, graphic representation, and basic statistical concepts such as correlation.