

Intercultural Communication I

Syllabus Number

FLE-101

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

TAJIMA, Hideharu

1. Course Description

In Japanese society where internationalization and multicultural society are progressing, opportunities to contact foreigners are increasing. Needless to say, this intercultural contact cannot be avoided overseas. What we need here is knowledge and ways to build a relationship of coexistence with people belonging to different societies. In class, learners will be required to present matters related to intercultural understanding.