

学校臨床心理学特論

Elective 2 credit
MURAKAMI, Kana

1. Course Description

Today at school, various experts other than teachers practice supports for children, for example clinical psychologists as school counselors. Therefore, each expert need not only to enhance their own expertise, but also how to behave at school, to acquire skills for cooperation with other experts, and to understand children's educational environments.

The aims of this lecture are to understand the knowledge and the duties necessary for clinical psychologists to practice at school, and to learn how to behave there and to cooperate with other experts.