Mind-Body Development Relation to Learning Process and

Its Syllabus Number

EDU-102 Teachers' License Program

Elective

2 credit

KUSANO, Izumi

1. Course Description

The lecture is intended to learn the basics of the developmental psychology to understand the learning processes of children from infant to youth.

We learn the important studies of development and learning processes first. Then, we think about the way of practices in the school through mutual discussion.