

福祉心理学

Syllabus Number

DEP-104

Elective

2 credit

KURODA, Miho

1. Course Description

Welfare psychology is the study of the psychological support required in the welfare field. In this lecture, we learn the outline and history of the current welfare system, and at the same time, learn about the role of psychological occupations in various welfare support and multidisciplinary collaboration. Based on this, the aim is to acquire practical skills as a psychological profession in welfare clinical practice.