

International Politics and Economics 1

Syllabus Number

ECO-203

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

1. Course Description

The main object of this lecture is to understand the international political economy. For this object, I will take up following subjects. International monetary system, international trade system, international political relations, and ideology of political economy.