

生徒指導・特別活動の理論と事例研究

Compulsory 2
credit

SAKAMOTO,
AKABORI, Hiroyuki

Kazuyoshi・

1. Course Description

You are going to take a general view of various problems and their backgrounds concerning daily life guidance, and shed light on the current status and issues of students to try to find out solutions in a both theoretical and practical manner. Also you are going to understand the actual conditions of students of elementary schools, junior high schools and high schools so as to find out how effective extra-curricular activities and career guidance will be concerning healthy upbringing of students. We aim that you acquire practical skills with which you will be able to let students solve their problems and become socially independent through various educational activities.