

Japanese History I

Syllabus Number

JPH-101

[III]

Elective

2

credit

SAEKI, Tomohiro

1. Course Description

You can learn about the process of forming and the characteristics of the Japanese Middle Ages' history by this class. And you can learn about the method of the history.

We will investigate them from four points of view - politics, military power, religion and economy in this class. And We will think about the importance of the Japanese Middle Ages' history for us who live in the present age, too.