

TOEIC Preparation I (Beginner)

Syllabus Number

ENG-103

Elective

2 credit

CHANO, Junichi

1. Course Description

This course is designed to prepare TOEIC beginners, whose current score is around 300, to achieve advancement on the TOEIC L&R exam through instruction and guided practice. Upon completion of this class, the successful student will be able to acquire the necessary language skills to reach a TOEIC score of 400. Putting emphasis on basic grammar, vocabulary, and listening comprehension, the spring semester will primarily focus on developing strategies for success in Parts 1-3 and Parts 5-6 of the TOEIC test.