

Advanced Japanese Constitution 2

Elective 2 credit
KANAZAWA, Makoto

1. Course Description

This course considers structural limitations on government: the separation of powers among the three branches (legislative, executive, and judicial) of the national government. A major focus throughout is the proper role of the judiciary in limiting the action of other branches of government.