

障害理解心理学特論(福祉分野に関する理論 と支援の展開)

KURODA, Miho

Elective 2 credit

1. Course Description

This class promotes psychological understanding of people with disabilities and understanding of social welfare through learning how to support people with developmental disorders. First, we learn the definition of disability and learn reasonable accommodation for various barriers resulting from disability. Next, we learn the psychological problems that occur from developmental disabilities and consider how to support appropriately people with developmental disabilities, family supports, welfare systems, and social supports.