

Reading/Writing VI

Syllabus Number

ENG-204

Compulsory 1 credit

The Japanese Language Course

1. Course Description

The purpose of this course is twofold. First, students will practice their global reading skills and close reading skills through various activities. They will be provided opportunities to critically examine the ideas in the texts, as well as exercises through which to acquire vocabulary and grammatical knowledge. Second, students will be given tasks to write a coherent and cohesive essay on a familiar topic.