Seminar II Syllabus Number SEM-302
Compulsory 2

GUO, Sizhi

credit

1. Course Description

In this seminar, focusing on the important and indispensable international economic theory and fact should be including the emerging countries such as China, another essential pole of the world economy. In addition, we also take up energy and the environment, investment issues that has a significant impact on change-whereabouts of the international economy and financial situation, to discuss.