

Introduction to Psychiatry

Syllabus Number

PSS-201

Elective

2 credit

IKEDA, Masatoshi

1. Course Description

Psychiatry is clinical medicine to have the both sides of natural science and the humanities or social science.

The student who is going to study psychology has to learn this field.

This lecture consists of the following contents.

What is mental disorder or mind illness?

What kind of meaning is it to be cured?

How did the psychiatry make the system in connection with brain science, psychology or society?