

Infant Education

Syllabus Number

EDU-103

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

HIRANUMA, Akiko

1. Course Description

This course serves for the purpose of the introduction of education. To begin with, students would learn about the concept of children, and in turn they are taught about suitable childcare and education to nurture children's development. In the course, lively examples and videos will be provided for discussion, in order to help students develop their individual view on children and education.