

Seminar I

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

TSUKAHARA, Makoto

1. Course Description

We will analyze financial statements released by companies to evaluate corporate activities behind them. Accounting is a tool for identifying, measuring and communicating the management activities of companies and other organizations with monetary value. We will practically learn how to use accounting information and how to interpret it in this lecture.